What Makes Perioavance Dry Mouth Gel Different?

Includes key ingredients that help to restore a healthy oral microbiome.

An enzyme-rich formula designed to mimic natural saliva.

Dry mouth is caused by decreased saliva production — increasing the risk of tooth decay.² Saliva contains key enzymes and proteins that help to maintain a healthy oral microbiome and deliver optimal antibacterial properties.

Chronic xerostomia significantly increases the risk of experiencing dental caries, demineralization, tooth sensitivity, candidiasis and other oral diseases that may affect quality of life negatively.³

Perioavance Dry Mouth Gel is an enzyme-rich formula designed to mimic natural saliva. It is clinically proven to provide moisturization and immediate relief from dry mouth symptoms all while delivering key proteins and enzymes that are present in natural saliva and are critical for antimicrobial protection.^{1,5}
